

Mas du Soleilla

LANGUEDOC-LA CLAPE, FRANCE

The wines from La Clape closely resemble the vines, encircled by “garrigue” and pine forests – the rounded supple floral aromas have a powerful and generous supporting structure that enchants the senses.

The luxurious aromatic palette and the balance of wines of the Mas of Soleilla place this one among the big domains of Languedoc. Sunny, generous, perfumed by the scrubland and the sea sprays, the Mediterranean soil of Clape expresses itself with elegance and delicacy there, led by the spirit of Peter Wildbolz.

The red: crisping fruit, farandole of spices, floral delicacies: blackberry, raspberry, licorice, violet, iris, truffle ... Freshness, curvature, velvety tannins. The white: exotic wealthiness and mineral delicacy: sweetness of the apricot, the crystallized orange, the vanilla, the distinction of the flint.

The wines of Mas Soleilla, fully organic, representative of a region and a work ethic, are especially delicious.
